Children's Chapel Columbarium

A columbarium is a structure with niches in which the urn containing ashes from a deceased person are inurned. Columbaria can take various forms: they can be in an interior wall of a church building or constructed in the churchyard in various shapes and sizes.

Christ Lutheran Church has a columbarium located in the Children's Chapel. Two bronze signs above the columbarium list all those whose ashes rest inside. Members of Christ Church can reserve spaces; the cost is $700 for each space and bronze plaque. Urns need to be less than 11 ¼ inches tall and 11 ¼ inches deep. Family members wishing to be placed together should mention this request when they reserve their space.
